"Crossing the Barre" - a New Show in July!

Annual Membership Meeting

RACC Grant Received

Greetings, Friends of Mask & Mirror Community Theatre!

Summer is here and Mask & Mirror Community Theatre has more online offerings on the way!

"Crossing the Barre" July 16-18

When: July 16-18 2021

Where: Available online at maskandmirror.com all day for the three days above

Tickets: This show is free of charge, but an online donation would be greatly appreciated

Virginia Kincaid has performed with Mask & Mirror several times, and now we're proud to present the online premiere of her show "Crossing the Barre".

Summary:

Six illustrious women converge unwittingly at an outpost; a seventh arrives, surprising them with a profound truth.

This will be an on demand, online premiere of "Crossing the Barre" by Fountains at Summerfield resident Virginia Howe Kincaid. With a nod to Tennyson's poem "Crossing the Bar" in which the poet describes his acceptance of death, Virginia's play features 7 accomplished women as they quarantine together during the deadly present-day Covid-19 pandemic, preparing for their next achievement during their isolation.

The show will be available to watch online here on the weekend of July 16-18 2021:

RACC "Make/Learn/Build" Grant

Mask & Mirror has received a $3000 grant from the Regional Arts and Culture Council towards the purchase of a portable lighting system. This acquisition will enable us to bring in professional grade lighting for shows at the Tualatin Heritage Center and augment the existing lighting system at Rise Church in Tigard (formerly Calvin Presbyterian Church). You can learn more about the RACC at www.racc.org .
